RICH

Find of Copper Made on White River in Alaska.

Seattle, Washington, August 4.—The steamer Farrallan has arrived from Alaska with sensational news regarding a copper find at the headwaters of the White River, in American territory. Chunks of pure copper ranging from the size of a hen egg to pieces weighing 25 pounds, thrown about like seltzer rocks on top of the water-washed surface of the creek are said to have been found. The metal is said to be abundant in such quantities that it will easily warrant the construction of a railway a distance of 25 miles to a point on the White Pass, where the river is navigable for steamers.

CRIME

Follows the Opening of the Siberian Railway.

Scraps-McRae League. Victoria, B. C., August 4.—Letters from Siberia describe an outbreak of crime and general restlessness on the part of the population as one of the first effects of the opening of the Siberian railway. In Irkutsk a roguish club has been formed and houses are broken into and whole families murdered by bands of vagrant robbers. Even the railway is not safe and trains are attacked and the stations plundered.

No Let up to Hot Weather.

Scraps-McRae League. St. Louis, August 4.—The extremely hot weather continues and the weather bureau promises no relief soon. There have been several prostrations but no deaths.

MAKES 'EM MAD.

Filson's Letter Causes a General Howl From the Animals.

Below is printed a letter written by Barnes' henchman, Filson, to a number of the members of the territorial central committee. It is one of the most impudent and impudent attempts to get hold of the party machinery ever attempted in Oklahoma. William Grimes is chairman of the territorial central committee, and a conference of Republicans is necessary. He is the man to call the meeting. He is the man, too, as long as he is chairman, to consult for the party's good.

The letter will create something of a sensation, and it is to be expected that there will be a general howl from the animals.

Dear Sir:—Since the close of the campaign I have not had the pleasure of seeing or hearing from you, and there is a subject I feel free to address you about which might do harm to our party.

Some persons have industriously and persistently circulated and endeavored to impress members of the committee with the idea that Governor Barnes was not disposed to be favorable to the members of the territorial Republican central committee. It is to be stated in that effect are false in every particular, and only circulated by those who desire to weaken the party and bring about its defeat by creating dissensions in the ranks.

Governor Barnes, as I know from personal experience and from positive assurance from him at different times in the past, is not prejudiced against the committee. On the contrary he is anxious to know the wishes of the committee on the various questions affecting the party and will be glad to hear from them on any and all occasions. I sincerely trust that you will be free to write on any matters in your locality, stating all the conditions frankly and I can assure you that your communications will always receive full and fair consideration.

Okla. Rep. Barnes must stand together for the great battle of 1900 and not allow ourselves to be cheated out of the great victory which is right fully ours.

DOCTRINE

Of Monroe Seems to be Wor-rying the European Interests.

Scraps-McRae League. Paris, August 4.—The critical situation in San Domingo furnishes the figure today with an opportunity for a challenging article on the Monroe doctrine. It partly says: "The United States would not dare raise the question of Monroe doctrine if the European combine should choose to intervene in San Domingo. It would be a good thing if the present Dominican crisis was to give Europe an opportunity to thrash Monroeism out of America forever, as it can no longer be pitted against European interests."

OUTCAST

Although Indorsed, has Not Received Census Appointment.

George Outcast has not been appointed census enumerator for Oklahoma, as many people over the territory are led to believe. He was recommended by Governor Barnes and Congressman Flynn, and this recommendation was forwarded to Director Merriam, who endorsed him from the recommendation. At this point Secretary Jenkins had his appointment held up by filing charges against Outcast. The secretary is still in Washington fighting the case. Director Merriam says he will not forward Outcast's name to the president until the charges are cleared away. The people of Oklahoma will wait and see who has the "big influence" with Major McKinley, the congressman and governor, or the lone secretary.

MEXICAN

Have the Yaqui Indians Well In Hand.

Scraps-McRae League. San Francisco, Cal., August 4.—According to late advices the Mexican troops have the Yaqui revolt well in hand. The troops have killed many Indians in several battles and it is said a war of extermination is now on. The daring leader of the Indians is not known, but it is believed he will soon be brought to bay as the government has stationed troops all along the river to interrupt reinforcements.

WIDMER AT WORK

For the Preservation of Game and Fish in Oklahoma.

Dan F. Widmer, territorial game warden, announced the appointment of the following deputy wardens: R. E. L. McLaughlin, Cordell, for Washington; W. B. Martin, Ponca City, for Kay county; Whit M. Grant, Oklahoma City, for Oklahoma county; Ben F. Brumage, Guthrie, for Logan county; George A. Foster, Perry, for Noble county; J. M. Rutter, Pawnee, for Pawnee county. Appointments for the other counties will be made later.

It is the intention of the game warden to render a rigid enforcement of the game law, and in the selection of deputies he has tried to secure men who will prosecute violators of the law without favor. It is lawful to shoot prairie chickens and wild turkeys only between the first day of September and the first of January of the following year; quail between the fifteenth of October and the first of February; plover and dove between the first day of August and the first of December.

Any person found in possession of any means or parts of any of the game mentioned during the closed season, shall be subject to a fine of $25 to $100. There is no restraint to fishing with hook and line, but persons detected taking fish with a gill or spear net, seine, gun or trap of any kind will be vigorously prosecuted.

EASTERN CAPITALISTS

Are Now Seeking Oklahoma Investments.

Major W. D. McKinley, of the Oklahoma Bond and Trust company, reports that he has purchased over $400,000 of Oklahoma bonds and warrants within the past year, and from the present outlook the territory will be dotted with more and better school houses than ever before in its history. On account of the great crops and prosperity of Oklahoma the rate of interest on municipal securities has been raised. A year ago the securities of Oklahoma would not interest investors, but today they are sought after by some of the most prominent investors of the East. He is daily receiving letters from parties who would not even answer last season. This speaks well for the "Land of the fair sod."
